Table of Contents

On J.M. Coetzee, His Man and He: Prologue ........................................... 9
Ludmiła Gruszewska Blaim (University of Gdańsk, Poland)
   Dead end in the beginning:
   The rhetoric of openings in the novels by J.M. Coetzee ............. 15
Hania A.M. Nashef
   (American University of Sharjah, United Arab Emirates)
   Resisting the cul-de-sac in Disgrace,
   Master of Petersburg and Life & Times of Michael K ............... 31
Duncan McColl Chesney (National Taiwan University, Taiwan)
   Michael K.: J.M. Coetzee between Beckett and Kafka ............. 51
Grzegorz Maziarczyk
   (John Paul II Catholic University in Lublin, Poland)
   A day in the life of a wounded animal: Alex Harvey’s television adaptation of The Lives of Animals by J.M. Coetzee ...... 65
Bożena Kucała (Jagiellonian University in Kraków, Poland)
   Writers at the Gate: Last pronouncements in J.M. Coetzee’s Elizabeth Costello and Diary of a Bad Year .... 81
A.C. Coubleigh (Independent Scholar)
   J.M. Coetzee’s Slow Man: An egress from Slow Man ............. 95
Nedine Moonsamy (Rhodes University, Republic of South Africa)
   The Invitation in J.M. Coetzee’s autobiographical triad:
   Boyhood, Youth and Summertime. .................................. 113
Derek Attridge (University of York, United Kingdom)
   The Childhood of Jesus and the limits of rationality ............. 137
Jan Wilm (Goethe University Frankfurt, Germany)
   It Takes All Kinds to Make a World:
   The Worlds of J.M. Coetzee’s The Childhood of Jesus ............... 145

Robert Kusek (Jagiellonian University in Kraków, Poland)
   Between Friends? Here and Now, or an “Epistolary Dialogue” between J.M. Coetzee and Paul Auster .............................. 171

Index ................................................................. 193